Practice Areas:

- Business & Corporate
- Estate Planning & Probate
- Health law
- Land Use / Ranches / Real Estate

Kevin Carrico is an attorney at Aron and Hennig. Prior to his legal career, Kevin was employed in the medical pharmaceutical industry, practicing as a licensed pharmacist for six years at several large companies. Kevin utilizes those past corporate and medical experiences to focus his legal practice in areas of business and corporate law, estate and personal planning, health law, probate and trust administration, and real estate. Kevin also has extensive background in ranching and outfitting in Southeast Wyoming, with first-hand experience with many private and public land use issues. Kevin works closely with Jan Rerucha in providing estate planning and wealth preservation and transfer techniques. Prior to joining Aron & Hennig, Kevin was selected as research assistant for a member of the Wyoming Stock Growers Association to assist policy development.
