Rich Hennig is a senior status member of the firm, and recently concluded his long tenure as managing partner, but continues to assist with the mentoring of the younger attorneys. Rich continues to be actively involved in representing and advising a number of long-standing individual, business, and professional clients, while assisting and supporting the other attorneys in select assignments and projects.

Rich has experience representing several highly successful business and medical practice clients across a wide spectrum of legal areas, and at all stages of the business life-cycle. Over the years, Rich has assisted business and professional clients in developing corporate governance and decision-making protocols, and long-term, sustainable buy-sell and transition models, as well as working with clients in business planning to enhance operational and strategic objectives, including proactive conflict resolution. Rich has also advised and assisted clients with the recruitment, employment, and retention of key personnel and professionals.

Rich also represents builders and contractors, and real estate developers and professionals, and assists in the design, development, and implementation of construction projects and subdivisions, as well as with sales and purchases of real estate.
